Act faster with automated change management

AscentHorizon eliminates time-consuming, tedious work by automatically assembling regulatory updates from around the world and identifying which of those apply to your business. Instead of your teams being bogged down searching for the next regulatory change, they can act immediately on implementing new and updated obligations.

Pinpoint what matters with obligations-driven scanning

AscentHorizon automatically delivers scanning updates based on your obligations inventory, which contain the precise regulatory requirements that impact your company today. This helps you mitigate regulatory risk and adopt a proactive compliance stance by rapidly pinpointing the documents that impact your obligations, along with how your obligations are impacted.
